

Restorative vs. Retributive justice : A case for selective justice in transiting Uganda and Sudan

Nathan Muwereza

*Max Planck Institute for foreign and International Criminal Law
Albert Ludwig University, Freiburg*

Map showing the transnational nature of the conflict and crimes

Victims or perpetrators, perpetrators or victims?

Amnesties: Pardon or compensation for perpetrators?

The state and the army: insulated criminals?

Peace now, justice later or peace and justice together?

Traditional/local forms, national courts or international?

Victims or perpetrators, perpetrators or victims?

Child abduction

Children conditioned to kill

Now, on the list of the wanted

Amnesty, rehabilitation and reparation

Instead of capture and prosecution

They are compensated as rehabilitation

Contested innocence of the state's armed forces ????Lack of Convincing Evidence????

it

AFP/GETTY IMAGES/FILE

Forms of Justice – Selective justice – isn't it Possible?

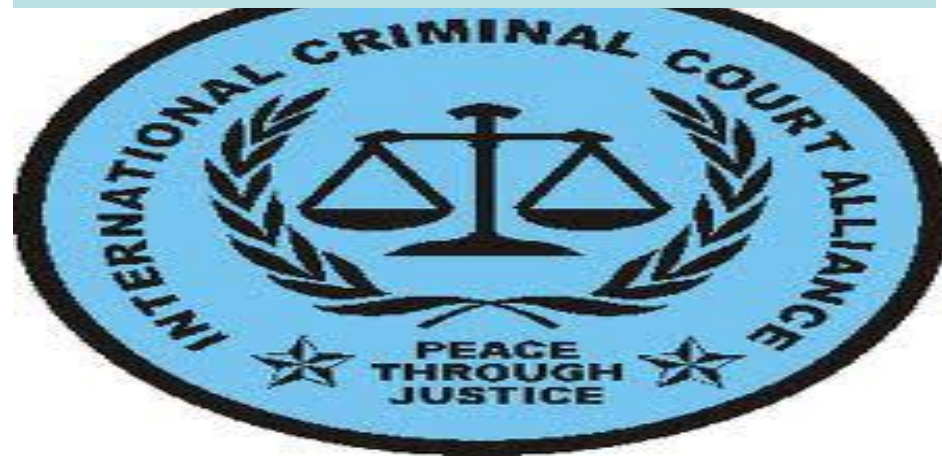

Local/traditional

National courts

International

Thank you