Superdiversity in Łódź: Challenges and Practices for Strengthening Dialogue in a Post-Industrial City

"Łódź shows how superdiversity in post-industrial cities is never neutral. It can deepen polarization — but it can also become a powerful driver of social cohesion. Through coalition-building, collective events, and public dialogue, local actors in Łódź demonstrate how diversity can be transformed from a source of tension into a shared urban resource. The key lies not in avoiding conflict, but in creating spaces where differences can be understood, negotiated, and held together"
